Parkinson's Disease
CENTER

Movement Disorders
CLINIC

The goal of the Parkinson's Disease Center and Movement Disorders Clinic (PDCMDC) at Baylor College of Medicine is to find an effective treatment and a cure for movement disorders. To that end, the PDCMDC provides a setting for education, research, and clinical treatment.

The PDCMDC is directed by Joseph Jankovic, M.D., Professor of Neurology at Baylor College of Medicine. The PDCMDC is internationally recognized for advances in experimental therapeutics and research. The PDCMDC also provides education and training programs, as well as specialized evaluation and patient care.

Research funds come from private and federal agencies, foundations, and concerned individuals. All contributions to the PDCMDC are tax-deductible and are appropriately acknowledged.
