Working Together to Eradicate Congenital CMV

The Brendan B. McGinnis Congenital CMV Foundation is a non-profit 501 (c)(3) dedicated to raising public awareness about congenital CMV, to raise donations to support research for a vaccine for CMV, and to affect change in the medical community so that physicians will begin to test women for CMV prior to pregnancy. Ultimately, our mission is to save babies yet to be born from suffering the often devastating consequences of congenital CMV by eradicating this common but potentially life-altering virus (cytomegalovirus).
