
Task Force for Admissions Requirements

Charge

The Task Force for Admissions Requirements (TFAR) is a standing committee of the medical school charged with reviewing and establishing admissions requirements such as premedical course requirements, characteristics and competencies of accepted applicants, and metric thresholds for pipeline programs.

The task force will review all aspects of the admissions requirements annually and develop steps for recruiting and matriculating an inclusive and diverse student body that meets Baylor College of Medicine's mission, vision, and diversity goals.

Committee Charge Approval

Committee Charge Sponsor Name, Title:	Karen E. Johnson, Associate Dean of Admissions
Approval Authority:
Date Signed by Approval Authority:	12/23/2019

Document History

Committee Name:	TFAR
Committee Level:	Undergraduate Medical Education
Committee Established:	August 2013
Date Charge Created:	August 2013
Last Modified:	August 2019
Responsible Office:	Admissions
Next Scheduled Charge Review Date:	9/1/2022

Task Force for Admissions Requirements

School of Medicine

Stakeholder Communication Method and Date:	Orientation, Email, In-person
Revision History/Purpose:	Click or tap here to enter text.