

Name of Program: Doctor of Medicine Program

Narrative: The Doctor of Medicine (MD) program is designed to meet the educational requirements for initial medical licensure in the United States. The program is accredited by the LCME, which is the nationally recognized accrediting authority for medical education programs leading to the MD degree.

Completion of the MD program satisfies the educational prerequisite for medical licensure in all U.S. states and territories. Licensure, however, is granted by individual state medical boards and requires additional steps beyond graduation, including successful completion of licensing examinations (e.g., the USMLE), postgraduate clinical training (residency), and other state-specific requirements such as background checks, application processes, and jurisprudence requirements where applicable.

This disclosure pertains only to educational eligibility for licensure and does not guarantee eligibility for, or issuance of, a medical license in any jurisdiction.

The Determination column below will indicate if the program curriculum Meets the requirements in these states and US Territories, Does NOT Meet the requirements in these states or Undetermined if the program has not yet determined if the curriculum is met for these states and US Territories.
